Exchange of information

A student following a course combining work and school and who has an employment relationship with the hosting company grants permission by signing for the sharing of information about study progress, including attendance and absence, and study results with the hosting company at school.

A student taking a vocational course grants permission by signing for the sharing of the study results with the hosting company. If the employer is a different organization than that of the hosting company (for example a job agency) providing for the PPE, the student grants permission by signing this agreement for the sharing of this agreement with the employer.

The permission can be withdrawn by the student at any time by reporting this in writing to the study pathway mentor.

Coaching:

The hosting company designates [FILL OUT] as the practice trainer and the educational institution designates [FILL OUT] from among their staff as PPE mentor.

By signing, the student and the hosting company declare to have taken cognizance of and to agree to the applicability of the terms and conditions associated with the professional practice education agreement. The conditions can also be consulted on the website: <https://www.novacollege.nl/over-nova/reglementen/>.

In the application and enrollment procedure, the parents and/or legal representatives have agreed that the underaged student signs this agreement independently.
